MARKET SUMMARY

INDIA

- The Indian market recorded a modest correction this week; however, this should not be viewed as a sign of stronger sentiment but rather a market adjustment following an earlier high-priced vessel sale.
- A key development this week was the recyclers' association directing yards to introduce loading charges, while also asking recyclers to restore stricter payment discipline, with mills expected to settle on a next-day basis or within a maximum credit period of 10 days, after payment cycles had loosened during recent geopolitical tensions.
- While these measures are expected to improve liquidity for ship recyclers, the additional loading costs and tighter payment structure could place pressure on downstream buyers and mills.
- As a result, the local market may face some short-term weakness in the coming week as participants adjust to the revised commercial framework and assess its impact on margins.

BANGLADESH

- The Bangladesh market softened slightly this week, with local prices easing on a day-to-day basis.
- Despite the softer local market, interest remains visible for mid-sized assets, which continue to be the preferred tonnage for buyers.
- Bangladesh remains the highest-paying recycling destination compared to the other major markets, supporting continued buyer interest.

PAKISTAN

- The Pakistan market remained firm this week, with buyers actively looking for vessels and overall sentiment staying strong.
- Local market conditions continue to support prices, particularly due to a shortage of available goods.
- This shortage has added strength to buyer sentiment and kept the market relatively positive compared to other destinations.

TURKIYE

- The Turkish market remained quiet over the past week, with limited activity and very few transactions reported.
- Market sentiment continues to be cautious, while trading levels remain subdued.
- Looking ahead, market direction remains difficult to predict due to domestic political uncertainty, regional geopolitical tensions, and continued depreciation of the Turkish Lira.
