MARKET SUMMARY

INDIA

- The Indian market trended softer through most of the week, and despite the introduction of new import duties the overall tone remained weak; however, towards the very end of the week we began to see early signs of stability and a slight improvement in sentiment.
- Recyclers remain bullish on the medium-term outlook, despite the current softness.
- While buyer demand is present, there has been a clear dearth of tonnage coming into the market, which has been a key feature of the week.
- The Recycling Code 2026 has been received and is currently being worked on for implementation, and we will provide an overview on the Recycling Code and related domestic developments.

BANGLADESH

- Bangladesh remained subdued this week, with demand mainly focused on smaller units and limited appetite for larger tonnage. Local price levels softened further, while melting scrap values stayed broadly stable.
- Buyer participation remained thin and less aggressive than in recent weeks, keeping overall activity muted.
- February elections and Ramadan-linked seasonality are expected to keep March soft, with improvement more likely post-Ramadan.
- 2–3 yards are expected to become operational, which could support engagement thereafter.

PAKISTAN

- Pakistan's market sentiment is positive this week, supported by reduced availability of competitively priced imported material as unofficial imports have eased and official import flows have paused for the time being.
- This shift has improved recyclers' confidence, and buyers appear more comfortable engaging compared to recent weeks.

TURKIYE

- Türkiye saw a modest improvement of around USD 3 on the import side this week.
- Local market pricing, however, remained unchanged, and the domestic tone stayed steady.
- Activity continues to be intermittent in this region, so the market remains watchful on whether the import improvement translates into any local movement in the week ahead.
