Highlights of the week

As the year comes to a close, we extend our heartfelt gratitude and best wishes to you. May this holiday season bring you peace and joy, and may the New Year bring health, happiness, and success. Looking ahead to 2025, we are filled with optimism and hope. May it surpass the year behind us in every way, bringing new opportunities and achievements.

The ship recycling market remained challenging across all destinations this week, reflecting a subdued and stagnant industry as 2024 concludes. In India, buyers showed interest but refrained from purchasing at current price levels, with speculation about anti-dumping duties creating further uncertainty until post-budget announcements in February 2025. Bangladesh's market was quiet, with recyclers facing year-end banking pressures, and no major shifts expected until elections in late 2025 or early 2026. Pakistan experienced minimal activity due to ongoing economic challenges, while Turkey's market remained slow and inactive with no signs of improvement. Each region faced unique hurdles—economic and political challenges in Pakistan and Bangladesh, while India and Turkey struggled with stagnation and lack of demand. Overall, 2024 was not a fruitful year for the industry, and we now look to 2025 with cautious optimism, hoping for better conditions and new opportunities.

India

The market is stagnant as buyers await policy updates and sentiment shifts.

- The market has remained largely stagnant, with a slow pace and a pessimistic mood prevailing.
- While buyers are showing interest, they are reluctant to make purchases at the current price levels.
- Some movement or a shift in market sentiment is expected after February 1, 2025, following the announcement of the budget as speculation continues around the potential imposition of anti-dumping duties, a long-debated issue linked to the surge in imports from China.
- India's economy is projected to grow at 6.5% in FY 2024-25, down from 8.2% last year, amid global uncertainties. The Finance Ministry's forecast follows a slowdown to 5.4% GDP growth in the July-September quarter, reflecting external challenges.

The liquidation process is expected to conclude by June next year, with surplus staff being laid off. A technical committee's findings this month will determine the way forward.

Announced at a climate conference in Baku, it aims to support eco-friendly initiatives like Microsoft's investment in the Delta Blue Carbon project, create jobs, boost the economy, and protect the environment.

- This week, the sentiment remained unchanged, with no developments or positive optimism. The market continues to be slow and inactive, just as it has been for some time now.
