Market Commentary

Bulkers: The Baltic Dry Index (BDI) closed today at 2,660 points, up 149 points or almost 6% on last Friday's 2,511 points, bringing a run of four consecutive weekly declines to an end. The recovery was led by the Capesizes, with the BCI gaining almost 17% w-o-w to 3,791 points, although the index eased slightly on the day. The Panamaxes remained under pressure, with the BPI losing a further 9% w-o-w to 2,109 points, while the geared sizes held their ground, with the BSI edging up to 1,887 points and the BHSI steady at 1,020 points, its highest level this year:

BALTIC INDICES	POINTS	CHANGE
Baltic Dry Index	2660	▼ -33
Baltic Capesize Index	3791	▼ -57
Baltic Panamax Index	2109	▼ -42
Baltic Supramax Index	1887	▼ -3
Baltic Handysize Index	1020	— 0

Sale & Purchase: Second-hand activity eased slightly compared with recent weeks, but values held firm in both the dry and wet sectors. In dry bulk, buying interest remained steady across all sizes with a clear tilt towards the smaller geared segments, where a broader choice of tonnage makes deals easier to conclude, while Japanese-built vessels continued to attract strong demand: the oh/box shaped handysize MOUNTPARK (38k blt 2016 Naikai) fetched $ 23.5 mill and the supramax YASA UNSAL SUNAR (55k blt 2007/Mitsui) $ 15.1 mill. In the larger sizes, the post-panamax MARITIME KING (96k blt 2011 Imabari) changed hands for region $ 19 mill basis forward delivery January 2027. In total, 11 bulk carrier sales were recorded, comprising 1 post-panamax, 2 ultramaxes, 4 supramaxes and 4 handysize vessels. The tanker market stayed very active and firm, with prompt tonnage commanding a premium and Middle Eastern buyers paying top prices: the Suezmax ZOUZOU N. achieved $ 103.3 mill, above newbuilding parity, the VLCC VADIN fetched $ 117 mill basis prompt delivery Fujairah, almost double the price vessel was sold ($60 mill) just seven months ago in April 2026. In containers, buying interest continues to exceed the available tonnage, keeping values at elevated levels.

Demolition: Recycling activity remained thin, with only a handful of candidates circulating, mostly from the dry segment, as firm freight markets keep older tonnage trading; in Pakistan, two dry bulk demolition sales were reportedly called off after sellers received better offers from trading buyers. India remains firm with increased demand for specialized vessels, while Bangladesh remains the most competitive destination amid a tight supply of tonnage, as reflected by the FOTEX (Ldt 2600 tweendecker) at $ 530 per LT and the LIAN YI DA 2 HAO (Ldt 5560 handy bulker) at $ 512 per LT. Appetite in Pakistan has cooled due to subdued steel demand and renewed steel imports from Iran, while Turkey held steady despite slowing local steel demand. Looking ahead, possible sanctions relief for certain tankers could bring additional candidates to the market.
