MARKET SUMMARY

INDIA

- The Indian market remains cautious this week as persistent and unpredictable dollar fluctuations continue to affect local sentiment, keeping buyers hesitant.
- Purchasing interest for new units, particularly larger vessels, remains limited, with negotiations becoming increasingly difficult under current currency volatility.
- Two new sales appear to have been concluded; however, most of the tonnage being circulated still consists of sanctioned or “dark fleet” vessels.
- Overall, buyers continue to proceed carefully, preferring further clarity on the dollar before committing to additional tonnage.

BANGLADESH

- Market conditions have weakened sharply, with local buyers remaining extremely cautious amid tightening liquidity in the money market.
- Several newly built green-recycling yards have halted operations due to the absence of incoming vessels, while many existing compliant facilities remain down or fully occupied.
- A notable gap persists between melting scrap and plate prices, further limiting yard competitiveness and keeping overall buying activity subdued.
- Mid- and large-sized vessels still attract some degree of interest, and owners seeking higher price levels—particularly compared to India, are encouraged to consider Bangladesh as a viable recycling option.

PAKISTAN

- Market sentiment remains stable, though buying interest continues at lower levels as dollar-related challenges persist.
- Pakistan has finally achieved a major milestone with Prime Green Recyclers becoming the first yard in the country to obtain full HKC compliance, verified by Bureau Veritas.

- Despite this positive development, payment delays of around three to four days remain common, keeping overall activity cautious. While the certification has boosted long-term confidence, near-term momentum remains limited.

TURKIYE

- The Turkish market remains stable and unchanged, with no notable movement in pricing or buying activity.

- Conditions mirror previous weeks, with sentiment and demand maintaining a steady but muted pace. No new indicators suggest any immediate shift in direction.
