MARKET SUMMARY

INDIA

- The market softened during the week, with values continuing to face downward pressure amid weak overall sentiment.
- Ongoing currency weakness continued to weigh on buyer confidence, limiting participation in the local market.
- Buyer participation remained limited throughout the week, as most buyers adopted a cautious and selective approach.
- Overall activity levels stayed subdued, with little evidence of near-term improvement.

BANGLADESH

- The local market remained weak during the week, with overall activity levels staying very low.
- Buyer participation continued to be extremely limited, with only one notable Bulker sale concluded.
- The Bulker transaction was achieved at a surprisingly strong level, outperforming regional alternatives.
- Despite weak sentiment and limited buyers, this sale highlights that Bangladesh can still deliver stronger outcomes for owners seeking higher levels.

PAKISTAN

- Market conditions remained unchanged during the week, closely mirroring the previous period.
- Sentiment stayed steady, with no visible shift in buyer behavior.
- Overall conditions reflected a market in a wait-and-see mode.

TURKIYE

- The market remained steady throughout the week, maintaining its usual consistency.
- Pricing and sentiment showed no material movement during the period.
- Activity levels continued without any notable change. The Turkish market once again reflected its low-volatility nature.
