MARKET SUMMARY

INDIA

- The local market showed a marginal improvement compared to the previous week, with sentiment slightly firmer overall.
- However, due to adverse currency exchange movements, buyers who purchased over the last three to four months continue to face losses, keeping confidence restrained.
- Buying interest is present, but at a much lower level than previously seen, with buyers remaining cautious and selective.
- Dark fleet vessel arrivals continue to keep the market busy, consistent with the trend reported in recent weeks. Several yards that were previously empty are now being filled with these incoming vessels, supporting activity despite broader caution.

BANGLADESH

- The market remained largely unchanged during the week, with weak sentiment and subdued activity as buyers continue to find it difficult to operate under current conditions.
- Buyers remain reluctant to purchase newer assets, especially as prices continue to remain quite low compared to past levels.
- Ongoing severe civil unrest across Bangladesh continues to weigh on overall sentiment and confidence.

PAKISTAN

- The market showed no meaningful change during the week, continuing to remain quiet and subdued.
- Recent activity was limited to one private deal involving a small bulker, offering little indication of broader momentum.
- Expectations remain that Pakistan will focus on smaller tonnage until a larger unit becomes available at workable prices.

- In the absence of stronger drivers, the market may face downward pressure in the near term.

TURKIYE

- The market remained very slow during the week, with no notable change in sentiment or pricing direction.
- Similar to last week, overall conditions stayed flat, with participants holding existing positions.
- Import and local pricing showed no fresh movement, reflecting continued inactivity and limited interest.
