MARKET SUMMARY

INDIA

- The Indian market came off during the week, with pricing levels no longer considered viable despite continued decent demand from end buyers.

- The Directorate General (DG) of Shipping has adopted an extremely strict approach toward sanctioned vessels proposed for recycling, with heavy scrutiny on class, flag, and insurance documentation.

- As all approvals must now be routed through the DG of Shipping, the process has become significantly more rigid. This shift is expected to create some near-term disruption in the inflow of sanctioned vessels, as several owners are hesitant to proceed under the tighter regulatory framework.

BANGLADESH

- There remains visible demand from end buyers; however, the local market has yet to provide the necessary pricing push to convert this demand into stronger transactional activity.

- Overall sentiment appears positive following the conclusion of elections. With the interim party no longer in place and the elected political party assuming control, improved confidence and a more stable outlook are expected in the near term.

PAKISTAN

- The Pakistani market remained reasonable this week, with no significant movement in pricing or fundamentals.

- Buying interest continues at a steady pace, with a decent level of activity observed, although without any major shifts in overall market direction.

TURKIYE

- The Turkish market remained stable this week.
- There were no major developments or notable changes to report, with overall conditions largely unchanged from the previous week.
