Capesize/Newcastlemax

The count of VLOCs sailing toward Brazil and the ballaster/laden vessel ratio suggest a bottom (and subsequent rally) is approaching, but it's probably still a few weeks away. Iron ore volumes in the pacific is lower than last year, as China's inventories remain relatively high, and consumption is still in the low season. However, on the latter point, imported iron ore consumption in China ticked up last week for the first time in two months.

Panamax/Kamsarmax

The market remains weak and as written in our previous reports this is not likely to change before mid or late February. Activity in pacific coal markets should increase after the Chinese New Year, but there are concerns about fundamentals as inventories in China are high.

Argentinian and Brazilian Soybean volumes are forecasted to be higher than last year, but the harvest is progressing slower than usual.

Supramax/Ultramax

The market remains weak and is likely to remain so until the middle of February. Coal trades in the Pacific are very slow, and the South American grain season is progressing slower than last year.

Basis average seasonality, the upturn will begin during the second week of February.

1. Introduction

The statistical and graphic information set forth in the analysis is compiled by Fearnresearch and based on the databases and time series supplied by Fearnresearch, the research division of Fearnleys AS, and other external sources of information. Fearnresearch compiles, processes and publishes data for the benefit of the brokering departments of Fearnleys AS and its clients. Its methodologies for collecting data, and therefore the data collected, may differ from those of other sources, and its data do not reflect all or even necessarily a comprehensive set of actual transactions occurring in the market. Certain estimates may be based on prevailing market conditions. There can be no assurance that such data reflect actual market conditions.

Data compilation, especially for earlier historical periods, is subject to limited audit and validation procedures. Both closed and open sources, interviews and market intelligence to gain information on different topics may be used. Accordingly, there can be no assurance as to the accuracy or completeness of the estimates, advice, statements and any other information contained in the analysis.

2. Risks

Research coverage of Fearnleys AS encompasses solely companies within the shipping sector. This sector is cyclical by nature and will over time presumably experience higher volatility than the overall market.

3. Confidentiality

Pursuant to Fearnleys' Code of Conduct, all employees of Fearnleys AS are subject to duty of confidentiality towards clients and with respect to handling inside information. All employees shall follow strict information handling procedures and other organizational procedures to minimize conflicts of interest within Fearnleys and between clients.

4. General Disclaimer of Liability

The analyses, estimates, advice, statement and any other information contained in the analysis are prepared and presented in good faith. However, neither Fearnresearch, Fearnleys AS nor any of their subsidiaries, associated companies, organisations, management personnel, employees, agents or independent contractors (collectively the "Fearnley Interests") shall under any circumstances be under any liability for any losses, damages or costs caused to any person, company or other legal entity arising or resulting directly or indirectly from reliance on any inaccurate, incorrect, incomplete or misleading analyses, estimate, advice, statement or any other information contained in the analysis resulting directly or indirectly from any negligent or gross negligent act(s) or omission (s), or wilful misconduct, committed by any of the Fearnley Interests.

In the event that a court or tribunal, notwithstanding the above liability exemptions, should hold any, some or all of the Fearnley Interests liable in damages for any inaccurate, incorrect, incomplete or misleading analyses, estimate, advice, statement or any other information, the liability shall not under any circumstances whatsoever exceed in total ten (10) times the fees payable for the analysis in question, or US$ 100,000 (United States Dollar Hundred Thousand), whichever is the higher.

Under no circumstances whatsoever shall the individual or individuals who have caused the losses, damage or costs be held personally responsible or liable in any way. The Fearnley Interests shall under no circumstances whatsoever be liable for punitive damages.

The analysis is prepared to the benefit of the named addressee only. No other third party may rely on the analysis or any of its content without prior written approval of Fearnley Consultants AS.

Should any part of this clause be held unenforceable, non-operative or invalid by a court or tribunal, the remaining parts shall remain in full force.

5. Processing of Personal Data

The processing of personal data within Fearnleys AS is subject to strict rules and regulations. Our Privacy Policy describes the procedures for processing personal data according to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Please see our homepage for more information on this.
