

Fearnleys Dry Bulk Weekly

Capesize/Newcastlemax

Imported iron ore consumption in China has continued to rise. This suggests the market could muster a rally over the next month or so.

However, other indicators look a bit more bearish, like the ballaster/laden vessel ratio and the rising share of the VLOC fleet heading for Brazil.

Panamax/Kamsarmax

Since last week, the number of vessels heading to ECSAM has ticked down, so we are now in "overtime" in terms of when the second wave of the ECSAM season should begin. China will obviously be incentivized to buy SAM beans rather than US beans.

Coal still looks weak, and macro economic conditions are not supportive of a fundamental improvement any time soon.

Supramax/Ultramax

Last week, we wrote the following: The vertical down move in commodity prices and stock markets tells you everything about how global markets assess Trump's Liberation Day policies. The outlook will remain bearish until there is a change to the ongoing turmoil.

The copper price lead shown below has taken a turn for the worse, and is telling us that the market will weaken during the second half of this year.

A positive near-term outlook for ECSAM grain shipments will likely help to stabilize the market. No economic data have been released for April, so there is not yet much visibility in this regard.

1. Introduction

The statistical and graphic information set forth in the analysis is compiled by Fearnresearch and based on the databases and time series supplied by Fearnresearch, the research division of Fearnleys AS, and other external sources of information. Fearnresearch compiles, processes and publishes data for the benefit of the brokering departments of Fearnleys AS and its clients. Its methodologies for collecting data, and therefore the data collected, may differ from those of other sources, and its data do not reflect all or even necessarily a comprehensive set of actual transactions occurring in the market. Certain estimates may be based on prevailing market conditions. There can be no assurance that such data reflect actual market conditions.

Data compilation, especially for earlier historical periods, is subject to limited audit and validation procedures. Both closed and open sources, interviews and market intelligence to gain information on different topics may be used. Accordingly, there can be no assurance as to the accuracy or completeness of the estimates, advice, statements and any other information contained in the analysis.

2. Risks

Research coverage of Fearnleys AS encompasses solely companies within the shipping sector. This sector is cyclical by nature and will over time presumably experience higher volatility than the overall market.

3. Confidentiality

Pursuant to Fearnleys' Code of Conduct, all employees of Fearnleys AS are subject to duty of confidentiality towards clients and with respect to handling inside information. All employees shall follow strict information handling procedures and other organizational procedures to minimize conflicts of interest within Fearnleys and between clients.

4. General Disclaimer of Liability

The analyses, estimates, advice, statement and any other information contained in the analysis are prepared and presented in good faith. However, neither Fearnresearch, Fearnleys AS nor any of their subsidiaries, associated companies, organisations, management personnel, employees, agents or independent contractors (collectively the "Fearnley Interests") shall under any circumstances be under any liability for any losses, damages or costs caused to any person, company or other legal entity arising or resulting directly or indirectly from reliance on any inaccurate, incorrect, incomplete or misleading analyses, estimate, advice, statement or any other information contained in the analysis resulting directly or indirectly from any negligent or gross negligent act(s) or omission (s), or wilful misconduct, committed by any of the Fearnley Interests.

In the event that a court or tribunal, notwithstanding the above liability exemptions, should hold any, some or all of the Fearnley Interests liable in damages for any inaccurate, incorrect, incomplete or misleading analyses, estimate, advice, statement or any other information, the liability shall not under any circumstances whatsoever exceed in total ten (10) times the fees payable for the analysis in question, or US$ 100,000 (United States Dollar Hundred Thousand), whichever is the higher.

Under no circumstances whatsoever shall the individual or individuals who have caused the losses, damage or costs be held personally responsible or liable in any way. The Fearnley Interests shall under no circumstances whatsoever be liable for punitive damages.

The analysis is prepared to the benefit of the named addressee only. No other third party may rely on the analysis or any of its content without prior written approval of Fearnley Consultants AS.

Should any part of this clause be held unenforceable, non-operative or invalid by a court or tribunal, the remaining parts shall remain in full force.

5. Processing of Personal Data

The processing of personal data within Fearnleys AS is subject to strict rules and regulations. Our Privacy Policy describes the procedures for processing personal data according to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Please see our homepage for more information on this.
